

Nikita Bears Olive Branch of Peace

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev has flown into Peiping bearing the olive branch of peace toward the United States. Will Mao Tse-tung pick it up or spurn it to create more turbulence in Asia?

In two major speeches soon after arriving in Peiping for Red China's 10th anniversary celebrations, Khrushchev literally lectured Mao on the urgent need to keep the peace.

"We on our part must do all we can to exclude war as a means of settling disputed questions and settle these questions by negotiations," he told more than 5,000 bigwigs of the Communist world at a lavish reception Wednesday night in his honor.

Communists—who universally claim they alone are the champions of peace—generally do not talk this way among themselves in public.

The implication was unavoidable. Mao has created one military crisis after another since he took over the Chinese mainland in 1949.

If the Red Chinese buy Khrushchev's line and really want to dispel some of the ill will separating Washington and Peiping, they can take two concrete steps.

They can free five Americans they still hold.

They can renounce the use of force as a means of conquering the Nationalist-Chinese stronghold of Formosa.

These two conditions were laid down by the United States in August 1955, when ambassadors of the two countries began talks in Geneva.

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai told the Communist elite in Peiping that he welcomed the Eisenhower-Khrushchev communique, which emphasized this theme.

It is too soon to say whether this represents an important change in Red Chinese thinking. Peiping insists Formosa is an internal affair, not an international conflict. But it could be a straw in the wind.

Rameses the Great of Egypt posted that he had furnished at least 19 million ceremonial bouquets and ornamental plants to temples.

Steel, Rails, Motors Losers on Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels, motors, rails and oils were losers as the stock market declined early this afternoon in moderate trading.

Losses of fractions to about a point were shown by most key stocks.

An occasional 2-point loser appeared. The market as a whole was continuing to react from five days of recovery which was cut short in Wednesday's decline.

Some specially situated stocks drew trading attention and posted gains.

U.S. Steel was down about a point following oversubscription of its 300,000-share secondary offering, which was understood to be from the estate of the late Howard Gould, son of Jay Gould, the legendary financier.

Ford dropped about 2 and General Motors more than a point for the worst losses among automobiles. Studebaker-Packard was off about a point.

Rails were dispirited again as steel labor negotiations continued in secrecy. Baltimore & Ohio was down about 2 and Southern Railway about 1.

Guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Buchanan were Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Wortham of Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mitchell attended a World Book representative luncheon meeting at Grimm Hotel in Texarkana Sunday.

Wrong Man Named as Killed in Crash

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Alfred Featherston, a Murfreesboro attorney, today said he had been erroneously listed as having been killed in the crash of a commercial airliner in the Aleutian Islands a week ago.

His brother, Maj. Marshall P. Featherston, was killed in the crash.

Alfred Featherston's name was included along with that of his brother in a list of military casualties of the crash made public by the Defense Department.

Alfred Featherston said he was listed with Defense Department as his brother's next-of-kin and that apparently this led to the erroneous report of his death.

$3.8 Million for State Hospitals

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri hospitals have been granted $3,820,105 in federal money to help finance additional facilities.

Gov. James T. Blair reported yesterday.

The money is made available on a matching basis under the Hill-Burton program.

For additional general patient beds—Missouri Delta Hospital in St. Louis, $220,500.

For public health centers—Dunklin County Center at Kennett, $40,000.

For nursing home beds—St. Vincent's Hospital at Monett, $75,000.

way around a point. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off $1.10 to $222.10 with the industrials cents and the utilities up 30 cents. Long-range government bonds rose fractionally.

Presenting the Magnificent Nineteen-Sixty

Cadillac

THE FLEETWOOD SIXTY SPECIAL

Creating a New Era of Elegance!

The motor cars represented here will soon introduce a new era of elegance to the world's highways.

They are the Cadillac cars of 1960—and, from every standpoint, they represent the Cadillac tradition in its finest hour.

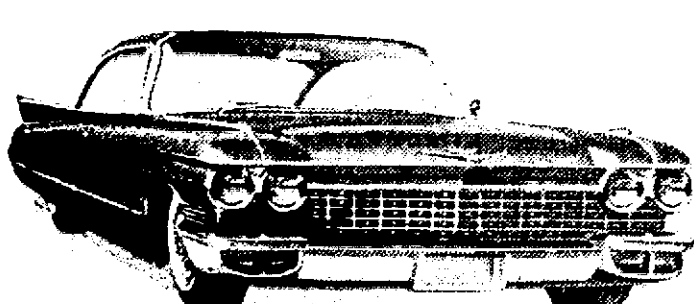

In appearance, they are regal and majestic as never before—a brilliant symphony of line and contour from the sparkling new front grille to the graceful flow of the rear fenders.

In interior decor, they are truly magnificent—featuring luxurious new fabrics and leathers—new convenience and excellence of appointments.

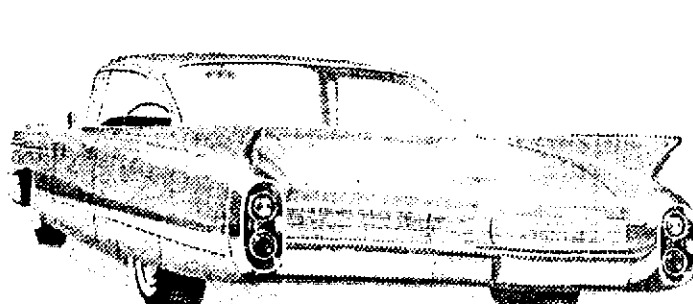

And in the way they drive and handle, they are perfection on wheels. There is a greatly refined engine and transmission that provide even finer performance... a ride of unbelievable smoothness and quiet... and notable advancements in power steering and braking.

These new Cadillac virtues have been interpreted in thirteen distinctive body styles. Every motorist owes himself an hour at the wheel.

The 1960 Cadillac is waiting for you now at your authorized Cadillac dealer's—and your dealer himself is waiting to introduce you to this magnificent new Standard of the World!

the Confederate flags.

Mrs. H. C. Whitworth read a tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. J. W. Strickland.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. J. M. O'Neil. She also told the chapter about plans for a convention to be held in Magnolia, October 12-14. Mrs. J. M. Duffie reported on many gifts from "local businesses which will be given by the chapter at the convention."

Mrs. Charles Haynes of Washington, brought news of the Civil War Centennial to begin in 1961. Pioneer Washington will take a big part in this observance.

"Famous Cavalry Leaders and Their Horses" was the subject of the program brought by Mrs. Sam Strong. Mrs. Mary Duncan and Mrs. H. C. Whitworth were the hostesses for the meeting. They served individual strawberry pies and coffee.

The Jett B. Graves Sunday School Class Meets

The Jett B. Graves Sunday School class of the First Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hamilton Tuesday evening, September 29, for a pot luck party.

The house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers. Mrs. Annie Mammie gave the invocation. There were 17 members present and 2 visitors. Mrs. Carolyn Viswatt and V. E. Pritchett of Tampa, Florida. Mrs. Graydon Anthony and Mrs. Hazel Castle were co-hostess.

Polly Ann Gilbert Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Gilbert of Texarkana announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Polly Ann to A. L. Foerster son of Mrs. A. A. Foerster and the late Mr. Foerster of Yankton South Dakota.

The wedding will be an event of October 10, at the First Methodist Church of Texarkana.

Coming and Going

The Arkansas Children's Colony will be dedicated in Conway, on Sunday. Two pupils from Hope will attend the school. Cyril Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kent, will enter on October 6, and Mitzie Polk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Minor Polk, will enroll on October 13.

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist W. S. C. S. will meet Monday October 3.

Miss Lyla Brown is Bride of James Madison Lockhart

Miss Lyla Brown, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Lyle Brown of Hope, became the bride of James Madison Lockhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Madison King Lockhart of Forrest City, in a ceremony solemnized in the First Methodist Church of Hope on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 27 at 4 o'clock.

Woodwardian fern trees and white gladioli formed the background of the altar. A "lo the ceiling" cathedral, tiered candelabra served the center point of interest. The chancel was complimented with arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked with standards of white tapers. A cascade of satin ribbon, salal with candles, formed a crescent design around the choir rail.

The Rev. Rufus Sorrells, pastor, officiated at the double-ring service.

Prior to the ceremony, Luther Holloman, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. He also accompanied Mrs. Donald Ray Blackwood of Ruston, La., who sang "Because" and "One Alone." As the couple knelt for the nuptial blessing, she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Candlelighters were Miss Ellen Ohls, cousin of the bride of Arkadelphia and Leroy Dangeau of Wilson. Miss Ohls was gowned in yellow chiffon. She wore bronze "Come Autumn" chrysanthemums.

Mrs. James Madison Lockhart

at the back neckline of her frock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of diamond white silk satin fastened in the back with tiny satin covered buttons. The decollete neckline was edged with three deep tucks which extended around the shoulders and featured a wide scalloped band of hand-run Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes centered with tiny crystal beads. The long fitted sleeves were fastened with tiny satin covered buttons and tapered to petal points over the hands. The deep v-shaped waistline was marked by a narrow hand rolled cord. The voluminous skirt, which swept to a cathedral train, was accented on each side by deep folds that formed paniers appliqued with jeweled hand-run Alencon lace in floral design.

Her finger tip veil of imported silk illusion fell in misty tiers from a diamond white satin bonnet trimmed with appliques of hand-run Alencon lace studded with seed pearls. She carried white Antheriums interspersed with marbledized Croton foliage.

Miss Phala Brown, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Bob Harrison of Fordyce served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Dean Good of Texarkana, Mrs. David Paek of Pine Bluff and Mrs. James Massey of Nashville. The attendants were gowned in identical waltz length originals of emerald green satin fashioned with fitted bodices and bell shaped sleeves. Soft folds and a large bow in back enhanced the beauty of the bell shaped skirt. Tulle veils held in place with emerald green velvet bows, matching satin shoes and white gloves completed their ensembles. The honor attendants carried Phalaenopsis and Cymbidium Orchids. Bridesmaids carried white chrysanthemums cascades and croton foliage.

Vernon Lockhart served his brother as best man. Ushers were Clyde Mounts Jr. of Hope, John Stripe of Forrest City, Leroy Dangeau of Wilson and Captain Julius Hunter of Little Rock.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a French blue penu de sole afternoon dress, with which she wore a matching blue velvet hat. Her gloves were white and her other accessories were blue. Pinned at her shoulder was a white Cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a Dior blue faille dress with a blue velvet hat, white gloves and matching accessories. Her flowers were white Cymbidium orchids.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Hope Country Club. Mrs. Byron Heffner introduced the guests to the receiving line, which included the bride couple, their parents and the bride's attendants.

The wedding table was overlaid with a floor length green taffeta cloth covered with white net. The three tiered wedding cake was adorned with satin wedding bells and white Antheriums.

Mrs. Muriel Ohls and Miss Marion Chittman alternated with Mrs. W. B. Murry and Mrs. Newton Pentecost in serving the punch and cake. Mrs. Clyde Mounts Jr. had charge of the bride's book. Other members of the house party were Mrs. William Sutton, Miss Judy Hammons, Miss Denny Heffner, Mrs. Caroline Viswatt, Mrs. Dale Wood and Mrs. Marnel Hamm.

For travel the bride chose a grey ensemble with fur collar, black accessories and white gloves. She pinned an orchid at her shoulder.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans the couple will be at home in Forrest City.

Fayetteville Newsman Dies at 72

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Saint E. Gearhart, 72, general manager and vice president of the Fayetteville Democrat Publishing Co., died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage following a stroke.

The firm publishes the Northwest Arkansas Times at Fayetteville.

He was stricken after returning from a convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Assn. at Hot Springs.

Gearhart had held his positions with the publishing company since 1941. He was a former director of the SNPA and a past president and director of the Arkansas Press Assn.

He was the third APA past president to die within less than two months. The others were Frank Robbins Jr. of Conway and M.P. Jones Jr. of Searcy.

Gearhart was a native of Circleville, Ohio, and came to Arkansas in 1907. He was associated with the Fort Smith Southwest American for many years.

He came to Fayetteville in 1946 as advertising manager of the Times. Later he purchased stock in the publishing company and was named general manager and vice president the next year.

Gearhart held offices in the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations. He had served as national Committeeman of the Boy Scouts of America and as president of the Ozarks Playground Assn.

Survivors include his widow, two sons, George Gearhart, advertising manager of the Times, and John Gearhart of Stamford, Conn.; and three daughters, Mrs. A. Y. Berry Jr. of Fort Smith, Mrs. Stan Ramey of Washington D.C., and Mrs. Sue Klees of Fayetteville.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Miss Irene Thornton

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thornton of Hope announce the engagement of their daughter, Irene, to Robert A. Regnier, son of Dr. and Mrs. Waldo A. Regnier of Crossett.

The couple will be married December 28 in First Methodist Church of Hope.

Miss Thornton is a graduate of Henderson State Teachers College.

She is now Director of Youth Work for the Little Rock Conference Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Regnier is a graduate of Hendrix College, Conway, and Duke Divinity School, Durham, North Carolina, and at present is the pastor of Bryant and Mt. Carmel Methodist Churches.

DOROTHY DIX

No Book in World Can Substitute for Faith

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Curs is very happy marriage, married by one difference. My husband is a very devout man, a sincere believer in his religion, while I have no faith at all. All my life I have been a great reader, and I contend that books can be a good substitute for faith. I have read untold millions of times about problems and troubles, how they have been met and overcome and I think this knowledge is as good as the blind faith my husband has. I know why things happen, how they happen, and my husband also believes in the hows and whys of the world. We have innumerable discussions about this and each of us is annoyed because the other won't see the reverse side. Can you supply any clichees?—Amy G.

Dear Amy: All the clichees I would have to offer would strengthen your husband's arguments, not yours. No book in the world can act as a substitute for faith. It is, as St. Paul says, "The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Faith is a conviction not to be acquired through reading. Listen to your husband. Instead of writers, if you can't join him, at least don't fight him. Little by little some of his belief may seep through to you. Keep on reading for understanding, knowledge, and enlightenment but don't expect books to supply everything in your life. They can't give you love, sympathy, compassion or faith. These you must find for yourself.

DEAR Dorothy Dix: I'm going with a divorced man whose wife left him for someone else. She is now married to the other man. From what everyone tells me, they will never love me the way he loved her. However, he tells me he loves me more than anyone else. He talks about marriage, but not definitely. I haven't gone with anyone else since I met him. Do you think it would be better for me to date other men, and give him a little competition?—Gerly

Dear Gerly: Any woman who wants to get married is committing social suicide by giving all her dates to a man who is indifferent about the big step. Ray wants companionship. At the moment, at least, he's not interested in another matrimonial venture. Maybe he did, and does, still have a deep love for his wife. Maybe in time he'll get over it; maybe he won't. It's a big risk, Gerly, and I strongly urge you to make other dates.

DEAR Dorothy Dix: Mom always dressed my twin sister and me exactly alike and everyone thought we were pretty cute. I always hated the idea and yearned for clothes that were mine only. We were married in a double ceremony but, thank goodness, not in identical dresses. My sister has never given up the idea that she's entitled to anything I have. When she visits or comes to stay with my small daughter while I shop, she rifles my closets and dresser, taking whatever she wants, promising to bring it back after she's worn it on a certain occasion. She does return things, in reasonably good condition, but I hate the thought of wearing something that has been worn by another person.—Pauline

Dear Pauline: I think a close family relationship is worth the sacrifice of exclusive possession. If you refuse to lend things to your sister, you'll hurt her feelings and that will be a far worse calamity than wearing a dress someone else has used. It is not good to put things before people. You'll have some difficulty overcoming this quirk, but work at it, please.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Bobcats Meet Monroe, La. Team Tonight

The Hope Bobcats entertain an out-of-state foe tonight at 8 o'clock in Hammond Stadium when they meet the Ouachita Parish eleven from Monroe, La.

The visitors are coached by Bob Ellen, Hope native and a former Bobcat star who has successfully coached teams at DeQueen and Texarkana High Schools.

Little is known about the visitors except they will outweigh the Bobcats and are usually strong contenders in Louisiana in Class AAA. And local fans as well as coaches have plenty of respect for the coaching ability of Bob Ellen.

The Hope team is in good shape physically with only Jerry Owen not expected to see action. Coach Pierce will start the same lineup as in the previous three games.

Hope's band will perform at the halftime period. Rain last week kept down the crowd and many fans are expected to be on hand tonight to see the Bobcats in action for the first time.

Archery Range Could Help Deer Hunters

Reminders to Bow hunters and shotgun enthusiasts:

With a full two months of deer hunting ahead for Bow hunters, prospective Bow Hunters are reminded that the Field Archery Range at Dike Springs offers very "lifelike" practice.

The course consist of 14 targets placed at various points in the woods with each target being a different distance at a different eye level to the shooter so as to give the shooter every conceivable type of shot. The course is shot in numerical order much the same as golf is played. Each target is numbered at the shooting position for the convenience of the shooter.

Anyone desiring information about the course or about bow hunting in general should contact Charles Gough, Fay James or J. D. Boswell.

Also, a "Quail Covey Rise" consisting of a raised platform along which the hunter walks, while from one to four clay targets may be released from under his feet. has been set up in the large field just north of the Fair Park fence. The traps are set in the extreme Northwest corner of the field and may be reached by car by bearing left through the field as you cross Hamilton you will notice a strip mow-

Southwest Arkansas Premiere Showing at Saenger Theater

Showing tonight and tomorrow for the last times, is the year's most delightful comedy-romance with a sparkling new twist, "But Not For Me," starring Lee J. Cobb and Barry Corbin, showing at the Saenger Theater in Hope. Second feature for this giant double bill is, "Winchester '73," starring James Stewart, Shelly Winters and Dan Duryea. This is undoubtedly the best double feature program the Saenger has ever had the privilege of presenting to the show-going public... don't miss it.

7-8 Graders Score 14-7 Win at Camden

The Hope Junior High School 7th and 8th Grade football team defeated the Camden 7th and 8th graders in a closely played game at Camden last night by a 14 to 7 score.

Jerry Burnett scored in the first and second quarters for the Jr. Kittens. Line plungers were good for both extra points.

Following Hope's first touchdown Camden returned the kick off 70 yards for their only touchdown of the game.

This game was played as a preliminary to the Junior game between the Hope Bobkittens and the Jr. Panthers.

Last night's game was the first of the year for Coach Don Culp's 7th and 8th graders. Next week Coach Culp's Kittens are booked to meet Stamps in a 2:30 p.m. contest on the Hope field.

Jim Landis Comes Into His Own in Series

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—Fleet Jim Landis, the White Sox forgotten star, has to run himself into condition in the World Series.

He got an excellent start in the Sox' absurdly easy 11-0 opening triumph over the Dodgers Thursday, slugging sharp singles his first three trips and scoring three runs in a typically overlooked performance.

"But the first time I ran from first to third, I was panting," said Landis, who missed five games late in the Sox' American League pennant drive because of an insect-bitten thigh.

"I guess I got to get back into condition," said the 25-year-old center fielder with a grin.

Landis has been described as the least appreciated player in the White Sox drive to its first pennant in 40 years. The pattern was followed again Thursday.

All the plaudits went to Ted Klusowski, who drove in five runs on two homers and a single and to Early (Old Ironsides) Wynn, who quelled the Dodgers' until elbow stiffness forced an eighth inning retreat.

But it was Landis who punched the first hit of the game in the two-run Sox first and scored the second run moments later on Sherm Lollar's sacrifice fly.

It was Landis who singled across the third Sox run after Nellie Fox doubled to start the almost ridiculous seven-run Sox third.

And it might have been Landis, by his harassing bluffs at stealing second base, who got Craig to pitch a home run ball to Klusowski for his first two-run blast in the third.

It was Landis' leadoff single, his third in a row, which preceded Klusowski's second homer in the fourth inning.

Camden B Boys Edge Hope Team 7 to 6

The Camden Panther B Team downed the Hope Junior Varsity at Hammond Stadium last night by a narrow 7 to 6 score.

The Panthers scored in the first quarter and were successful on extra point try which proved to be the margin of victory.

The Bobcat B team held the visitors scoreless during the second quarter and were able to throw their only TD in the third quarter.

Charles Dudley, Bobcat fullback, broke through the line for a 15 yard TD thrust for the Cats. Try for the extra point was no good.

The teams were evenly matched and displayed a good brand of football.

Junior Score Victory at Camden

The Hope Junior High School Bobkittens defeated a very strong Camden Junior team last night at Camden by a decisive 20 to 6 score.

The win over the undefeated Camden Juniors was the third consecutive victory for Coach Gordon Beasley's eleven.

David Porterfield, versatile Bobkitten quarterback, was easily the game's outstanding player, scoring all three Hope touchdowns.

The game was a battle of offenses with Camden going 65 yards for their only TD following the opening kickoff. The Jr. Cats stormed right back for 45 yards with Porterfield going around left end for 15 yards and his first TD.

In the second quarter Porterfield outran the field for 35 yards and Hope's second TD and plunged over from four yards out in the third quarter to wind up the night's scoring.

The Junior Cats entire starting line played outstanding ball as did the starting backfield. Starting the game for the Hope Juniors at Camden last night were:

Larry Anderson, Kendall Yocum, Tony Purdie, Dan Jones, Orville Steadman, Chuck Biggs, Earl Ray Murphy, David Porterfield, Roy Wray, Richard McDowell and Jerry Pate.

Porkers Could Shed Role of Darkhorse

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks could boost themselves from the role of darkhorse to that of contender in the Southwest Conference football race with a victory over Texas Christian Saturday at Fayetteville.

That is uppermost in the minds of the team, student body, and 20,000 fans who will view the game.

But respect for the defending champion Horned Frogs is also in the mind of every player and fan. And Coach Frank Broyles realizes his Razorbacks will have to be awfully good to win.

The Horned Frogs are favored by about a touchdown at this juncture, but the point spread could be wider by game time if the bad weather surrounding Fayetteville decides to stay.

TCU's fullback-type offense shapes up as a better mauler than the Razorbacks' swift halfback offense. If Arkansas can't shake off fast backs lost to go around and over the Frogs, there is little chance that Arkansas will be able to go through the TCU line, where the Porkers will be outnumbered at least 20 pounds per man.

The Razorbacks worked for 90 minutes yesterday in a hard rain in an attempt to be ready for any kind of weather conditions. Then they spent more time inside going over TCU plays and watching a movie of last week's TCU-Louisiana State game in which the Frogs lost 19-6.

Regular fullback Joe Paul Albert still was out of action.

Turning Point in First Game Was a Long Foul

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
CHICAGO (AP)—Can an 11-0 World Series game have a turning point?

Could be. What if Charlie Neal's long drive down the left field line in the third inning of Thursday's game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox had gone fair by a few feet instead of foul by a few feet?

That would have made the score 2-1 in favor of the Sox instead of 2-0. Possibly it would have braced up the Dodgers. But it went foul and the next thing the roof fell in on the hapless National League champions. The punchless Sox scored seven runs in the bottom of the third and went out in front 9-0 with the same only one-third over.

But looking at it realistically nothing could have stopped the Sox. In the first inning two hit-and-run plays and two runs showed why this was a "go-go" team.

After Luis Aparicio popped out, Nelson Fox drew a walk and was running when Jim Landis lashed a single to right. Fox reached third and scored on the first of Ted Klusowski's three hits, a single to right that also sent Landis to third. Landis scored on Sheran Lollar's long fly to right.

Then came the third, dubbed by Manager Walt Alston of the Dodgers as being as bad an inning as his team had suffered all season.

Again it started with Aparicio flying out. Fox doubled and Landis singled, scoring him. Klusowski then hit the first of his two home runs of the day, into the right field stands, scoring Landis.

Chuck Churn came in to relieve Roger Craig on the mound for the Dodgers. At this point Sherman Lollar sent a high fly to center and the usually dependable Duke Snider collided with Wally Moon and dropped it for a two-base error. Bill Goodman singled into right scoring Lollar.

Al Smith doubled to left center and was saved from embarrassment when he went charging in to third where Goodman was standing only to have Snider make his second error of the inning by throwing wild to second. Goodman scored and Smith was safe at third.

Jim Rivera bounced to Neal who threw wild to the plate for an error as Smith scored and Rivera took second. Early Wynn, the durable Sox pitcher, promptly doubled to left center scoring Rivera to make it 9-0. Churn got Aparicio and Fox to ground out, ending the inning.

What followed was anticlimax. In the fourth, Landis hit his third consecutive single and Klusowski hit his second consecutive home run to make the score 11-0 and there it stayed. Klusowski's 5 runs batted in tied a series record.

Bow and Arrow Deer Season Oct. 8-31
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The bow and arrow boys get the jump on the men when hunting Arkansas' crop of deer.

A two-month bow and arrow deer season opens today in most of the state. The only exception is the White River National Wildlife Refuge, where the bow and arrow season for deer will be from Oct. 6 to 31.

Hunting in the rest of the state will continue through Nov. 30. The limit is one deer, which must be tagged after the kill.

Broyles says he probably will not start Saturday and may not play at all. Sophomore Curtis Cox will again get the starting assignment.

Saturday will be Dad's Day at Arkansas. Fathers will seat on the field with their sons. It's all part of a plan to whip up more enthusiasm and support for the Hogs in their Southwest Conference opener.

Playing interconference games this week and Arkansas and TCU will have the league spotlight to themselves.

Razorback statistics through the first two games victories over Tulsa and Oklahoma State, show All-Southwest Conference halfback Jim Mooley the running leader with 161 yards on 22 carries, an average of 7.3 yards per carry.

Jack Spikes, TCU's big first unit fullback, leads the Frogs in rushing with 161 yards on 25 carries for 6.7 yards per try.

TCU beat Kansas two weeks ago in its opener.
